The videos of the plenary presentations from the Society for Medical Anthropology's September conference are now available online. As we've mentioned before, this was a very impressive line-up of speakers. Videos of most of the talks, as well as Marcia Inhorn's introductions of the speakers, are available at the conference website. Here's the list:

A conference introduction by Marcia Inhorn

Keynote address by Paul Farmer (an autobiographical talk about his mentors and influences)

Didier Fassin on Global Public Health

Arthur Kleinman on Mental Health

Lynn Morgan on Medical History

Emily Martin on Feminism and Technoscience

Annemarie Mol on Science and Technology Studies

Margaret Lock on Genetics/Genomics

Barbara Koenig on Bioethics

Merrill Singer on Public Policy

Gelya Frank on Occupational Science

Rayna Rapp on Disability Studies

Richard Parker on Gender/LGBT/Sexuality Studies

Lawrence Cohen on International and Area Studies

This a great resource both for those who were not able to attend the conference and for those who would simply like to hear a presentation a second time.
